

Cash Center and CIT Solutions

Lower your costs. Improve your performance.
Protect your trust.

LOWER YOUR COSTS. IMPROVE YOUR PERFORMANCE. PROTECT YOUR TRUST.

Cash will continue to be a preferred payment method for many years to come. The number of banknotes in circulation is projected to grow at 5 percent every year through 2026 in markets worldwide, a significantly higher rate than trends in economic growth. You help cash work harder to drive business performance for your retail and banking clients. You're indispensable engines of the cash economy.

But now your own economic strength is under increasing pressure. Historically the CIT / cash center industry has grown by offering:

However, the world changes. Today banks and retailers are doing more for themselves. They're looking to reduce costs by automating cash authentication, fitness sorting and recycling within their own back offices, using the cash they have on hand more efficiently to reduce dependence on CIT and cash center services.

This can cause a cascade of consequences. For example, with the ability to retain and reuse fit notes, retailers may start replenishing their own ATMs. CIT revenues take a hit, while cash center expenses increase with the need to order more fit notes from the central bank or buy them on the open market.

Efficiency

applying economies of scale to the cash cycle

Flexibility

reducing the amount of cash that retailers and bank branches need to keep in their own vaults, while taking on the burdens of ensuring accuracy, authenticity, fitness and accountability

Performance

moving cash where it needs to go, quickly and securely

EFFICIENCY, FLEXIBILITY AND PERFORMANCE – REDEFINED

As banking and retail clients do more of their own cash recycling, you're getting fewer orders. Lower volumes per order. Fewer notes to work with, at a lower overall level of fitness. It all impacts your bottom line. How can you reclaim the advantages that built your business?

Glory solutions can help eliminate manual processes that lead to discrepancies, investigations and heightened security burdens. We can remake your technology to deliver greater productivity, minimal downtime and new choices for optimizing the capabilities of your facilities and staff. We can lower your costs while transforming the reliability and speed of your cash processing operations.

We'll work with you to automate virtually every process, from receiving bags through creating orders for specific quantities and denominations. We'll show you how to significantly reduce your per-note processing costs. We'll help you build stronger relationships with solutions that connect your services with your clients' back-office systems.

Glory cash processing solutions are far more compact, reliable and flexible than your legacy systems – at a fraction of the cost. So you can get the performance you need, in the configurations you require, with the redundancy you want to ensure continuous operation and profitability. This is the new definition of efficiency, flexibility and performance.

ON YOUR CUSTOMERS' PREMISES

CI-100X

Offer Glory's CI-100X note and coin recycler to your retail clients as part of a chargeable service. Think of it as an extension of your vault into your client's premises. Instead of losing revenue to retailers who want to recycle more of their own cash in the back office, you can be providing the equipment and training they need – while building stronger relationships beyond armed guards and armored vehicles.

Total secure cash handling that minimizes errors and improves trust.

Secure interface cassette for direct transfer to CIT without exposure.

Positions you as a partner for accuracy, efficiency and security from the front of store to the cash center.

COMPLETE SOLUTIONS, SUPPORT AND TRAINING

We also offer bag handling, coin processing, cash packaging and many more technologies, plus the expertise to customize a total solution to meet your specific needs. No one offers the power, flexibility and performance of Glory for any cash management requirement. And no one is more committed to ensuring your success, virtually anywhere in the world.

Strengthen your position at the heart of the cash cycle with solutions that drive business performance. That's the power of cash center and CIT solutions from Glory.
